Children's Classic:
How the New Girl
Saves the Day!

April May Potts is The New Girl in a very small town. April May's only friend in her new town is her shaggy dog, Scout, who is not just one kind of dog, but an every kind of dog. April May wants nothing more than to make new friends.

April May's mommy instructs her on how to achieve that goal, but April May discovers that it is often very difficult for a young child to fit into new surroundings. April May will not be discouraged! She does not give up on her quest, even though the children that she meets are at first VERY unkind to a newcomer. In the end, April May saves the day, and finds herself surrounded by many happy new friends, just as her Momma said that she would!

This wonderful children's book was written for anyone who has ever felt left out or different!
